

Personalized koozies for your guests to use during your reception and even keep as a wedding favor are perfect & who doesn't love a new koozie? Include your names, date and maybe a fun quote-one that means something to the both of you or maybe one from your favorite movie to watch together or song you both love.

Add a non-traditional accessory to put on before or after your ceremony! Like a personalized robe to wear while getting ready. We love this leather jacket that our past bride Carrie wore while dancing at her reception. It includes their wedding date and some gold painted embellishment. Peek their creepy-cute wedding cake toppers too!

How to Personalize Your Wedding

Ways to add personal touches of you, your partner, friends & family in your ceremony & reception

Photos Courtesy of Riverland Studios & Alyona Photography

Your stationary-like your invites and save the dates are the perfect place to add some personal touches. From colors to initials to cute sayings, incorporate your & your partners personality in paper.

Wedding favors that include your name and a touch of the location your wedding is held is a great way to make your day memorable. These personalized grit bags are a great Charleston themed favor!

Fill your guestbook with photos from your engagement or photos that you two have taken over the course of your relationship. It'll turn your signed guestbook into a photo album you'll love looking through after your honeymoon.

Don't forget to create a wedding hashtag that your guests can use when they share photos on Instagram! This makes it easy to go back and search that personalized hashtags and see all the fun photos your guests snapped throughout the day.